Select Greater Philadelphia Welcomes Quintiq To Greater Philadelphia

European Software Company Expected to Add 30 Jobs by 2010

Philadelphia, PA – January 6, 2005 – Select Greater Philadelphia, a not-for-profit organization dedicated to marketing the Greater Philadelphia region, today announced that Quintiq, a European software company, is establishing its North American headquarters in Wayne, Pennsylvania. Quintiq expects to have ten employees in Greater Philadelphia within a year, and projects creating 30 jobs within the next five years.

“We are very excited that Quintiq has chosen Greater Philadelphia for its headquarters in North America,” said Thomas G. Morr, President and CEO of Select Greater Philadelphia. “Quintiq has demonstrated rapid growth— more than 60 percent per year for the past three years. We’re particularly excited by their decision to move here because they’re bringing the kind of jobs we’re targeting – high-tech, high-paying jobs.”

Quintiq, founded in 1997, is a leader in delivering enterprise wide, state-of-the-art advanced planning, scheduling and supply chain optimization solutions that help customers reduce costs, increase efficiency and improve bottom-line results. It is headquartered in The Netherlands, with offices in Germany and the United Kingdom.

“Select Greater Philadelphia made our site selection a very smooth process,” said Paul-Erik Raué, vice president of Quintiq North America. “They’ve helped us by introducing us to potential partners, demonstrating the region’s culture and quality of life, and helping us find the best office space for our needs. There are so many talented people to draw from in this region; we’re confident we’ll continue our aggressive growth.”
